NSN'2007 INVITES

Fourth International Conference “Navy and Shipbuilding Nowadays” NSN’2007 will be held June 26-29, 2007, in Saint-Petersburg, Russia in frame of the International Maritime Defence Show IMDS-2007.

International Conference NSN’2007 is organised by FSUE “Krylov Shipbuilding Research Institute” jointly with FSUE “1st Naval Research Institute of RF MOD”.

NSN’2007 Organising Committee invites commanders and officers of Navies and Coast Guards services, ship-owners and navigators, managers and representatives of shipbuilding companies, scientific organisations and design bureaus, universities and public administration from various countries to attend this Conference.

At Conference will discussed tendencies in development of Navies of particular countries, working experience of shipbuilding yards in modern conditions, design technologies and scientific support of designing, construction and exploitation of ships of different classes, modern hardware and naval weapons.

We hope that participation in Conference NSN'2007 will be useful and impressive event since a possibility will be given to its participants to visit the IMDS-2007 exhibition with demonstration of ships, naval weapons and equipment, and also attend other show events.

IMDS-2007 is the third event of this kind in Russia. In the two previous Maritime Defence Shows participated companies and organizations from more than 30 countries, about 60 official foreign delegations visited them.
